PRINCIPAL PETERSON SENDS HIS HEARTY CONGRATULATIONS TO CAPTAIN, COACH AND TEAM

Professor De Lury of Toronto, Secretary-Treasurer of the C. I. A. U. also Sends Congratulatory Message to Professor McLeod, McGill's Representative of that Body

DECISION NOT TO PLAY MOST SATISFACTORY

Jimmy Lee was yesterday the recipient of a very nice letter from Principal Peterson. Praise from such a source is extremely welcome and it is very gratifying indeed to see that our Principal takes such a keen interest in the doings of the football team. Below we publish the Principal's letter to Jimmy Lee and along with it a letter received by Prof. McLeod.

18th Nov. 1912.

Dear Mr. Lee:

I have to be away in New York this week, otherwise I should have found time to see you and offer my warmest congratulations.

I am sure that you have all worked hard for victory, and that you richly deserve to win.

Please tell the other members of the Football team how proud we all are of them. And I ought to send a special message also to Mr. Shaughnessy, whose work deserves the greatest praise.

Yours sincerely,
W. PETERSON.

The following letter was received by Prof. McLeod yesterday and is from Prof. A. T. De Lury of Toronto University. Prof. De Lury is Secretary-Treasurer of the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union and evidently thinks very highly of our team's decision in regard to the play-off.

University of Toronto.
Toronto, Nov. 20, 1912.

Dear Professor McLeod:

Let me congratulate you on the success of your team, and of their very satisfactory decision to close the season with the final Intercollegiate game.

Yours very truly,
ALFRED T. DE LURY.

BUSINESS MEETING OF MCGILL Y. M. C. A.

Very Successfull Report was Presented by Committee

Yesterday afternoon the McGill Y. M.C.A. held its semi-annual meeting. The report presented by the executive was a very gratifying one, and the committees have all been most actively engaged during the year. Good progress is shown in all the different departments and the financial condition of the Hall is very bright. The report was unanimously accepted by the meeting and appears below.

SEMI-ANNUAL REPORT.
MCGILL UNIVERSITY Y.M.C.A.

This report covers the work of the Association since the Annual Meeting held last Spring.

The Northfield Conference, held in the last ten days of June 1912, was acknowledged by all to be the best of the many great conferences that have been held there, and it is a source of regret that so few McGill men were able to take advantage of it. The platform speakers included Mott, Speer, Dr. Cairns, Sherwood Eddy, Zwemer and Raymond Robins, so that in this way alone the Conference was a notable one. The impression grows that it is of vital importance to the Christian work of McGill that we should be represented by a strong delegation there each year. We had but nine delegates last summer.

Owing to the satisfactory number of advertisements in the Handbook this year, it was found possible to distribute it free of cost. In addition to the twelve hundred copies that were given out to McGill men, one hundred each were sent to the Royal Victoria College, Macdonald College and McGill University, B.C., and these have been much appreciated.

The Board of Directors held a Fall Conference of two meetings just before the opening of the session, at which papers on the work of our different departments were read. We look upon this little meeting as invaluable at the beginning of the term's work, and feel that much benefit has resulted from it.

The usual receptions to Freshmen have been held, and were attended by more than ever. Most of the out-of-town freshmen were given to upper class men to be visited and given friendly adaice, but it is difficult to say how many of them were actually seen. Our boarding-house list was in great demand. It would seem, however, that to get a freshman comfortably settled in new surroundings, we are in need of some men who will come back before the session opens, and sacrifice some of their time in actually seeing that the freshmen get into the right kind of quarters and form a few good acquaintances.

Sunday afternoon meetings have been discontinued since December 1911 but recent indications are that some sort of activity at that time would be welcomed. To meet this need, we have had the good fortune to secure the services of Professor R. E. Welsh who will give a weekly address upon a vital topic: "Religious Doubts'.

The Sunday evening sings have continued to be one of the most popular features of the work. These are enjoyed by forty or more men around the fire-place every Sunday evening after the Church services.

BIG UNION SMOKER NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT

A Good Programme is Being Arranged and a Large Attendance is Expected

On Saturday night there will be a Smoker at the Union. The Executive of the Union are sparing no pains in making these Saturday evenings as enjoyable as possible. Two of these Smokers have been given already this year and although one of these was slightly marred by the behavior of the students, the other was enjoyed very much by everybody present. Now that football is over and there is nothing very much doing on Saturday for the average college man, an entertainment in the Union on Saturday evening is just the thing required.

In former years these Smokers have proved very successful and the talent got together by the Executive of the Union is well worth listening to and all should be in attendance who can possibly get there.

Comic songs, humorous speeches, and almost every form of entertainment imaginable generally appears in the Union at these Smokers. Wrestling bouts and boxing matches between students are one of the most popular forms that the entertainment takes.

For this Saturday night the Executive have managed to persuade some of the professors to take the parts of entertainers, and these gentlemen were only too glad to do so. A very good time can be looked forward to by all this who come. Some of the talks are sure to be very witty and amusing. These Smokers deserve a good attendance as the Executive of the Union are very pains-taking and do their utmost to provide something interesting for Saturday night

A POST OFFICE

The suggestion to create a McGill Branch Post Office which appeared in our correspondence columns some time ago has apparently received little attention. The scheme has much to recommend it. There are in attendance at McGill this year well nigh two thousand students the majority of whom come from outside points, and are constantly in receipt of correspondence. Under the proposed scheme all letters bearing the general address, McGill University would come to the branch post office where they would be sorted and pigeon-holed until called for.

The present system is very unsatisfactory as letters with the general address of McGill are apt to be found in anyone of a half a dozen different places. They may be found either in the Registrars Office, any of the faculty buildings, Strathcona Hall, or the Union, where they are placed in a public notice board and where they are apt to be lost or mislaid.

All the many societies would receive their correspondence at the post office and no risk would be taken by anyone who sent unregistered letters containing cheques or money orders. Not of the leat importance would be the sale of stamps and the sale of money orders. This convenience would be much appreciated by all and would be made full use of.

This matter is one which is well worthy of the attention of the Students Council

The Supply Room would be the logical place for such an office and we feel sure that the Postal authorities would be glad to co-operate in any such scheme. The expenses of such a venture would not be great and would in all probability be borne by the government. We feel certain that the increase in business due to the larger number of students who would undoubtedly visit the Supply Room would well repay the Council for any trouble which such a step would involve.

CATERER TO McGILL HAS BEEN CHANGED

Price of Meals will be Reduced Under New Management

There is to be a change in the catering department of the McGill Union. Owing to the raising of the price of meal tickets by the present caterer, Mr. Walsh, there has been general dissatisfaction felt by all those who are accustomed to take their meals at the Union. The grill room has also had several complaints registered against it. The executive of the Union have given the matter a great deal of consideration and have come to the conclusion that the best thing to be done is to change the caterer.

Mr. Shew, who is the caterer for the Presbyterian College, and also has been catering for the Football team up at the house which the football team has been occupying, will be the new caterer at the Union. Mr. Shew has given general satisfaction in the past, whever he has catered to the wants of McGill men and has always wished to have the Union Dining Hall under his control.

Meals which have lately cost twenty cents will be provided by Mr. Shew at the rate of twenty tickets for four dollars and a half, or twenty-two and a half cents a meal. This is quite a reduction and ought to be greatly appreciated by the students who make a practice of dining at the Union.

Mr. Shew will, of course, also take over the Grill Room, and has voiced his intention of improving the class of meal served in it also.

It will be a great advantage next year for the football team to have their caterer so near the College instead of having to go so far away for their meals. The training table next year will be in the Union and Mr. Shew will be able to provide just as good, if not better meals for the football team as he will have all his conveniences so handy.

Mr. Shew will take over the catering this week-end, and will serve meals of his catering on Monday.

THE HOCKEY SQUAD HAVE GOUD TURN-OUT

First Practice in Gym. Shows that Men are Enthusiastic and Ready to Work

Last night at the gym. the hockey squad held its first practice of the season. There were about twenty men out and after three quarters of an hour of strenuous basket-ball, the men spent ten minutes with the skipping ropes.

Thompson, Hughes, Riley and Kendall were the only ones of last year's senior squad in uniform, but there was much new and promising material among them Sutherland, captain of last year's R.M.C. team. For so early in the season it was a very satisfactory practice and prospects for the coming season look very bright.

In yesterday's paper it was announced that there would be a practice every Monday from 7—8. It should have been Tuesday from 7—8; Thursday 7—8; and Saturday 2—3. Capt. Rankin wants a large turn-out for Saturday's practice. A locker can be obtained at the gym for the small sum of 25 cents and there is always good water for a shower. No man shall catch a place on the squad for the holiday trip unless he is in the best of condition. All up!

FIRST AID LECTURE AT MINING SOCIETY

Dr. Macrae Gave His Second Address on this Subject Last Night

Dr. McRae gave another of his interesting lectures on first aid yesterday evening in the Chemistry and Mining Building. This lecture forms part of a course intended chiefly for the Mining Class but open to others.

The lecturer spoke chiefly of the best means of stopping hemorrhage, and went on to the question of the treatment of scalds and burns. Frost-bite was also spoken of.

Dr. McRae then spoke of the treatment of septic wounds, such as the wounds caused by dirty knives, the bites of rabid animals or snakes. He tried to dispel many of the popular and often fallacious ideas which are entertained as to the treatment of wounds of this nature. They were, he said, very largely founded on superstition and in some cases were instrumental in producing the very result which they pretended to prevent.

The lecturer laid great emphasis on the importance of treating shock. It was possible for a person to die of shock when no bodily injury at all had been inflicted. Shock, he said, was allied to nervousness and the increased heart action due to excessive fright often produce very bad results especially in cases of wounds where the extra beats put in by the heart, due to nervousness, increased the bleeding appreciably. The very fact that the patient knew that something was being done for him was often sufficient to allay this violent action of the heart with most beneficial results.

BASKETBALL TEAM WILL GO ON TOUR

Team will Visit Potsdam Malone and St. Lawrence University

The Basketball Club is planning a trip down to the States. This trip has come to be a regular institution the team having made a trip of similar nature for the last three or four years. This season the trip will be made to Potsdam, Malone and St. Lawrence University. The team will leave Montreal next Tuesday, November 26th, and will spent about four days on the road. It is probable that eight men will be carried along but owing to the fact that some of the first team will be unable to make the trip it is impossible to say who will be carried along. This trip made early in the season before the regular schedule has commenced, is of great advantage to the team in giving them not only a chance to get into good condition but also the habit of playing together. It is no exaggeration to say that as in both football and hockey, team work plays a most important part.

Thus far the men have turned out most consistently and it looks at present as though our chances for the championship are exceedingly bright. All of last year's Senior team are in college and have signified their intention of playing and in addition to that there is much new material which shows considerable promise.

MCGILL RIFLE CLUB LAST TRIP TO RANGES

A Good Attendance is Required so that Our Score May Count in Dominion Salver Competition

On Saturday the Rifle Club will hold its last shoot this year at the Point aux Tremules ranges. This shoot will be the final one to count in the Dominion Salver competition. The usual two fobs will also be awarded, one for the highest first class score and the other for the second class score. It is hoped that a large number will come down to the ranges as we have to have at least 40 per cent. of our membership in order to be eligible for the Dominion Salver. As this is the fourth and last shoot it is hoped that the required number will turn up. If the weather continues as mild as it has been during the last few days there should not be any trouble from that cause.

THE MINING SOCIETY WILL BE ADDRESSED BY DR. ADAM SHORTT

Members of Civil Service Commission will Address Two Joint Meetings of Undergrad and Mining Societies

Next week Dr. Adam Shortt, of the Civil Service Commission, Ottawa, will address a series of two joint meetings of the Mining Society and the Science Undergraduate Society. On Monday, November 25th, Dr. Shortt will address Science men in the Chemistry and Mining Building at 8.30 p.m. on "The Labor Problem and Labor Organizations." A second meeting will be held on Tuesday November 26th at 2 p.m. at which Dr. Shortt's subject will be "Methods of Dealing with Labor Disputes"

Dr. Shortt is the foremost authority on Canadian Labor conditions, and McGill men are fortunate indeed to have this opportunity of hearing this subject discussed by one whose experience has been so wide and varied. All Science men are invited to attend these meetings, and to enable third and fourth year men to be present at the Tuesday meeting, arrangements have been made to have the usual afternoon work postponed for an hour.

BUSINESS MEETING

Bible study was initiated for the session at a Supper attended by ninety-five men, and has progressed since then with an average weekly attendance of about sixty. Small groups have been formed, led by undergraduates, studying "The Will of God", and "The Life of Christ", while Mr. Calhoun "The Social Significance of the Teachings of Jesus". A most promising feature of this year is the normal group in "The Life of Christ" led by Dr. Johnston of the American Presbyterian Church.

Five groups in Mission Study have been organized, and it is expected that the Student Missionary Conference at Peterborough to be held very shortly will provide a great impetus to this work.

In Industrial Service this year, we were delighted at the willing response that came to the appeal of Mr. W. W. Lee, Immigration Secretary, at Quebec, for forty-two men stated their willingness to teach English for one night a week to foreignors, but owing to the fact that classes have not been organized for them, only seven of this number are at work now. It would seem most unwise to come before students with work of this nature if one has not the means of getting the classes started, and as it is understood that the Central Association take this in hand every year, we look forward to the time when they can appoint a salaried secretary to devote his whole time to this very important work.

Our financial situation is quite bright. We have joined with the other Associations of the City in the recent canvass, which was successful in raising $37,000.00. Our student canvass is not yet complete, but it has reached the gratifying total of $1,100.00.

In Social Service this session we have made a decided step in advance. Nine McGill students are assisting in the good work of the University Settlement, some in the library there, some leading classes in the gymnasium, one man teaching arithmetic to a group of boys, one teaching carpentry, and several leading boys in the various activities of their clubs. This is the very best type of service, and is doubtless of as much benefit to the men who take part in it as to the boys of the Settlement.

A new feature in the Employment Bureau has not accomplished a great deal yet. A student is needed who will take charge of this department, see to its advertising, etc., for it involves more time than the Secretary is able to devote to it.

A new institution in the Monthly Supper has been very successful so far. Two suppers have been held, the first addressed by Mr. J. A. Whitmore with an attendance of seventy-five, and the second was devoted to lantern views of the Northfield Conference, attended by fifty-five.

We hope to bring our Foreign work that of Murray Brooks in Ceylon, prominently before the student body early in December, when Mr. H. B. Ames will give an illustrated lecture on India and Ceylon.

Strathcona Hall continues to be widely used, and seems to be increasingly appreciated by students.

YEAR '1914

Some fellows seem to think that the maxim, "everything comes to him who waits", is to be taken pretty literally, to judge by the actions of some third year men. At least this is the complaint which the Editorial Board of the Annual have. They claim to have properly announced and to have published in these columns, the fact that every third year student was to go to Rice's and have his photo taken.

But some men think Mr. Rice is going to stop them on the street and call a hack to bring them down.

As a matter of courtesy the final date has not been strictly adhered to, but the time is nearly here when all pictures not taken, can not be included in the Annual.

The Board make this last request that you make their work as light as possible.

PHYSICAL SOCIETY

A meeting of the Physical Society was held in the Physical Building on Wednesday afternoon. Mr. J. A. Gray presented a paper on "Some Properties of Alpha, Beta, and Gamma Rays:, An alpha ray from a radiactive substance is emitted with a certain definite velocity, proceeds in almost a straight line, and ionizes nearly every atom it encounters. Geiger obtained the relative number of alpha rays scattered by a body at different angles, and showed that two different mechanisms were at work. Rutherford explained the results by assuming that the positive charge of the atom was concentrated at is centre. The atoms adjacent to the path of an alpha ray gain momentum and energy at the expense of the alpha ray, so much in fact that some of them are capable of ionizing.

The alpha ray therefore loses energy all along its path. From the energy lost, it is found that the number of electrons in an atom is of the order of the atomic weight.

Beta rays are emitted from a radioactive substance with different velocities, but rays of any one velocity may be separated by a magnetic field. When beta rays are scattered, the reduction in velocity depends on the amount of scattering which takes place. Like alpha rays they lose energy all along their paths. ...

Gamma rays, unlike Xrays, are absorbed to about the same extent by different elements. Two types of them, however, are very soft and exhibit the characteristics of Xrays, showing that the two are identical. Recently Rutherford has found that when alpha rays strike a body, X-rays are emitted. The atoms emitting the alpha rays are also the source of Xrays. These are of the same type as the Xrays emitted by arrested beta rays.

METZSCHE'S IDEAS OF CHRISTIAN ETHICS

Interesting Paper on this Subject Before Philosophical Society

Fr. Nietzsche's Criticism of Christian Ethics" formed the subject for an interesting evening in the Philosophical Society which met in open session in Satrathcona Hall on Wednesday last. A paper was read by the President, Mr. H. P. Honey, introducing the subject in which he gave a summary of Nietzsche's position.

Nietzsche was a German philosophical writer of the Second European Renascence. In Ethics he was a naturalist with an Egoistical Aristocratic formula and was the first to apply Darwimson thoroughly to morals.

Nietzche maintains that Christian morality is based upon a belief in a personal God—a "Deity" and a "beyond." He says the belief in a beyond is absolutely necessary if faith in morality is to be maintained. This "faith" involves a false interpretation of the fundamental conditions of life. Christian morality is based upon outside authority and so is faulty and not the highest type of morality for man. A morality that depends upon a belief in an outside authority for its effectiveness in life and of necessity must lose that effectiveness if the "belief" is shattered.

"Life" itself is the true foundation for morals. Life is "Will to Power" —"Will to overpower." The origin and meaning of the act of valuing is explanation or interpretation. It is our passions that interpret. All virtues should be looked upon as physiological conditions—they are really refined passions and elevated physiological conditions.

Under morality Nietzsche understands a system of valuations which is in relation with the conditions of a creature's life. With him there is no moral phenomena but only a moral interpretation of phenomena. All phenomena are homogenous, moral are essentially the same as the immoral. He contrasts this view with what he deems the Christian view—that of strict demarcations.

In all valuations there is a definite purpose; the preservation of an individual, a race, a state, a church, a creed, a belief.

What is the criterion of moral action? Disinterestedness? Its universal acceptance? This is parlor morality. By Christianity the value of an action is once and for all fixed —every individual must submit to this valuation. We see an authority speaks—who speaks? God speaks, the Personal and Ethical Being of the Christian system.. Hence the moral law with its authority, sanctions and content.

Considering morality in its direct relation to Life we shall consider it from two aspects; that of its danger and that of its usefulness.

Nietzsche suggests— (1) Dangerous (a) It depreciated the joy of living and the gratitude feet towards life.

(b) It checked the tendency to and noble life.

(c) It checked the unfolding of life because it tried to set the highest phenomena thereof at variance with itself.

2. Usefulness of Morality.

(a). It is useful as an agent in the production of the man who is a "tool."

(b). It is useful to "mediocre people."

(c). It is useful to "sufferers."

(d). It is useful to the "lowly."

There are three powers lying concealed behind popular morality.

(1). The instinct of the common people opposed to the strong and independent.

(2). The instinct of all sufferers and abortions opposed to the happy and well-constituted.

(3). The instinct of the mediocre opposed to the exceptions.

The whole of the western world morality is based upon the values which are useful to the common people. Qualities such as the common people approve are such as are favorable to them.

To them in approved "virtues" Inertia seems to be active in (1) confidence (2) veneration (3) in the sense of truth (4) sympathy (5) impartiality and coolness of judgment (6) in uprightness (7) toleration The instinct of the common people values the "average" as the highest and best of all things, the "exception" is "sin."

This "leveling" the attraction for the common people in Christ.

This attitude is contrary to the best and highest for man; contrary to the fullest life. Christianity, its God, and everything in it is hostile to life, and above all to science—the knowledge of life.

Contrary to science a doctrine of Salvation has been invented in response to instinct of common people.

What is desired is that the moral values which have become destorted and unnatural shall be understood in their real nature—in their natural immorality. Morality it just as immoral, says Nietzsche, as any other thing on earth.

"Virtues" so called obtain power by immoral means—as a political party—slandering suspicion and undermining of opposing virtues that happen to be already in power.

Virtue under certain circumstances is merely a venerable form of stupidity. Virtues ruled by outside authority are just as dangerous as vices. True, virtue are qualities one develops ones self.

The discussion which followed was energetic if not very convincing. It was pointed out that Nietzsche did not truly understand Christianity or its Ethics and that he was even inspired by a hatred of its teachings yet in spite of all that there were grounds for some of his contentions and that he could not be passed over simply as an egomaniac.

DELTA SIGMA

The Delta Sigma Society held the first of its annual interclass debates on Wednesday afternoon. The subject "Resolved that Canada should contribute a sum of money towards the maintenance of the Imperial Navy rather than have a navy of her own." being one of peculiar interest at the present time and a large and appreciative audience listened to the arguments.

The amount of matter written on the subject is so great that all the speakers found much difficulty in picking out the points that could be most effective.

The Junior speakers, Miss MacCan and Miss Wielis upheld the affirmative and the Seniors, Miss Duff and Miss MacEwen, had the negative. Miss MacCan who spoke first gave an unusually able speech though at times she seemed uncertain about the points she was to bring out. Miss MacEwen, who is a fluent speaker, gave the first speech for the negative.

The third speaker, Miss Willis while she had evidently a thorough grasp of her subject and brought her points out most logically rather marred the effect by speaking indistinctly.

Miss Duff, the last speaker, made a most brilliant speech. Her subject matter was splendidly arranged and her delivery excellent.

The judges, Miss Hurlbatt, Mrs. Irwin and Dr. Leacock were only out of the room a few minutes. Dr. Leacock after a few comments on the speeches gave che decision in favor of the negative.

The next debate, which will be between the Sophomores and Freshmen will take place soon. Then the winners will meet the Seniors to decide the possession of the trophy for the ensuing year.

"Was your love affair romantic?" "Oh, very! I met Reginald at the seashore. We both pretended to be very rich." "Yes—yes?" 'And now it turns out that he collects the payments on our piano."

J. M. SHEW, Proprietor

Riley Hern says :

"One of the McGill boys asked me on Saturday for the "usual 10 per cent discount.

"If it were not Semi-ready Tailoring I should have "seen him coming," as do these merchants who pretend to give a "10 per cent" to students, clergymen, and all the good people of the Earth who ask for it.

"But Semi-ready Tailoring is sold at one price only, and at such a close profit on cost that these 10 per cent fellows would not dare handle their goods.

"It would be easy, for many of easy morals, to mark up a price 60 per cent and then mark it down 10 per cent. And, mark you, this is what is done—wherever merchants make their own profits and prices. I can prove it.

"Semi-ready Clothes are sold, at one price only. I repeat it. And they afford the best value that calculus, efficiency, and skill can demonstrate.

"Boys, I want to tell you that this 10 per cent discount is a come-on or gold-brick game.

"Look for the price—the marked price.

"See whether it is the standard price—or just the price for the occasion—for your occasion.

"No other maker of high-class clothing but 'Semi-ready' has the courage to establish a fair price to the customer by marking that price on the label and enforcing the sale at that low-price-profit."
